

FATHER LYNCH OF HENDERSON

Makes Interesting Lecture on "The Family and its Influence for Purity"

AT FESTIVAL HALL
SAN FRANCISCO

"The Monitor" of San Francisco, of date July 12th, says:—

The Catholic people in San Francisco will be greatly interested in the coming of Father Lynch, and no doubt many will go to hear him at Festival Hall next Thursday afternoon. Rev. Richard Ryan and Mr. Wm. J. Ahern, of California Council, have been appointed as a committee to look after Father Lynch during his stay in San Francisco.

Representing Kentucky on the invitation, and by the appointment, of His Excellency Gov. McCreary, at the International Purity Congress in session this week in San Francisco, is the Reverend Dean Edward J. Lynch, pastor at Henderson, Ky. He did, on Thursday, July 22, submit a lengthy paper before the Congress in the way of an address, on the subject "The Family and its Influence for Purity." We have been privileged to see an advance copy of it, and need hardly assure the reader that it is one which, in point of lucid exposition of Christian principles, grounded upon the natural and divine laws, and because of its practical suggestions, will not fail to make a profound impression on the Congress. Father Lynch is a deep thinker and a close student, thoroughly conversant with the social problems of our day.

A Reverend friend, to whom we are indebted for a copy of this address to be delivered today, writes us:—

"In looking over the Congress program, I find that it contains the names of men and women most prominent in intellectual and social circles, irrespective of individual religious creeds, from all over the world. The honor, therefore, conferred upon Father Lynch by the Governor of Kentucky is unique in every way and in kind, perhaps, unprecedented."

Address by Rev. E. J. Lynch, of Holy Name church, Henderson, Ky., at International Purity Congress, at San Francisco:

The Family and its Influence for Purity
Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is a pleasure to be with you on this occasion, and the pleasure is the greatest because you are banded together in the cause of Purity. Respect for you, respect for my civil superior, the Governor of Kentucky, by whose appointment I am in San Francisco, but greater still, reverence for the angelic virtue you are organized to promote, demand candor, although in many things I shall but repeat ideas put forward by others. While not claiming sacramental power—and it will not be treated in this address—the World's Purity Federation labors to promote purity in thought, word and deed in men, women and children; and to throw its united force against the contrary vice which insults the Almighty and degrades the human race. Your object is an eminently noble one, the field is world-wide, and my subject, "The Family and its Influence for Purity," but one of the avenues of work.

Parents are not mere functionaries to procreate children, feed, clothe, and secularly educate them, and otherwise and afterwards leave them to their own efforts; the married couple have these duties indeed, but as a means to the greater end which the Creator Himself designed for mankind. God created man for a glorious destiny, made him for a never ending peace, contentment and happiness with the Lord Himself and his angels in heaven after his earthly pilgrimage; destined him for a bliss filled as a vessel is filled to its capacity, not a drop wanting; and to fit man for this the Lord made man like to Himself. The spiritual part, the soul endowed with understanding, free will and aptitude for everlasting life, is incorporated in a body that among other powers of production is given the power of reproducing its own kind—it is a faculty that must resemble creativeness; and God perfects this reproduction by adding an immortal soul to every individual. This cooperation with the Deity is giving existence to future inhabitants of earth and heaven is something holy and exalted, a vocation to be honored by the public and the individual; it is a privilege that ought to be safeguarded against everything that would derogate from its dignity, frustrate its object, or impair the fitness of the human agents. It should be carried on along the lines of responsibility to the Creator and the OFFSPRING, and for nothing lower. Money was made for man, but man was made for heaven.

As Adam's body was built of already created and finished matter, and Eve's body from it, so mankind must be continued from finished matter from entire humanity—that is from man and woman. Male and female He created them; and God blessed them, saying: "Increase and multiply and fill the face of the earth." This was the first marriage, the foundation of the first family, for the family consists of parents and children: the head of the family must command his children and his household after him to keep the way of the Lord and do justice and judgment. Here are union, the command to bear children and to fit their offspring for heaven. This is a vocation grand enough for any man's son or daughter, a future for which due preparation ought to be taken and preparation made.

True to this purpose, there were large families in times gone by. Although we know that some are barren, and no blame attaches therefore, we ask in consternation what has become of the families of from four to a dozen children we were accustomed to see fifty years ago? A former president of the United States called it "race suicide," and some intentionally and flagrantly unsex themselves to escape the duties of motherhood, some for more trivial reasons. Nature revolts against abuse of the power of generation, if not in the act, at least in its destructive effects on the person and the race. This has been shown and strongly said in argument and invective during sessions of this Federation; divine law, both in Holy Scripture and the living voice, has inveighed against it; God gave the married couple the command, not the option, to increase and multiply; the race suicidists say "We won't do it." To produce or procure abortion is a heinous crime against God and the child. Many call it murder. Temporal disgrace or village comments do not minimize it one iota. Some women should dread lest they provoke their husbands to adultery, and thus promote houses of ill fame.

The family is no haphazard aggregation of people who have no links to bind them to each other, no mere sheltering and dialog together where the association is terminable at the mere whim or interest of one or other individual; no, the family is an organic or legal unit, a natural corporation of parents and children; it is held together by authority and obedience, sacrifice and loyalty, love and confidence; it is bound together by bonds that death may cut but it cannot kill. It has a community of blood and aspirations, of hopes and interests; its virtue and honor and shared by all in due proportion, and the moral tone of the family makes a strong unit of action.

The love of husband and wife must be exclusive, it must shut out sexual commerce and its approaches with every other person no matter whom nor why; no pretext, no inducement can condone, minimize, excuse or palliate matrimonial infidelity; it is immoral, damnable, damnable in women, damnable in men; a wife's adultery is in itself no more criminal before the Author of sex than a husband's adultery. The same is true of fornication. Deliberate language and action, even thoughts and desires of this kind deliberately and uselessly entertained, militate against purity and often induce the extreme offenses. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife." There never was a fallen woman without a fallen man, and the divine law against adultery, the law against fornication, laws against everything else that is impure, make no distinction of sex; the law has

WARSAW HAS FALLEN

Grave Disaster to Retreating Russians Feared at London

RUSSIA PRACTICALLY OUT OF FIGHT

Berlin, Aug. 5.—(Bulletin)—Bavarian troops yesterday and last night broke through the outer and inner lines of Warsaw's defense and this morning the city itself was captured, it is officially announced at German army headquarters today.

Warsaw's fall marks the culmination of the greatest offensive movement in the Teutonic war. Thrice before they have knocked at Warsaw's gates but had been unable to enter. This time it was compelled to capitulate in face of the vast movement which threatened to encircle the city and with it the Russian armies engaged in the campaign, of which Warsaw was the storm center. From the north, northwest, west, south and southwest the Austro-Germans have been pressing upon the Polish capital in a combined drive to force the Russians out of Russian-Poland and if possible break its offensive power for an indefinite period by administering a decisive defeat all along the line.

LAKESIDE CAMP SNAKE INFESTED

Mrs. M. B. Long Discovers Enormous Reptile Over Six Inches Long

The inhabitants of Lakeside Camp in the Walnut Grove were startled Monday night by the shrill cries of Mrs. M. B. Long, Mrs. Jno. Long, Mrs. H. L. Brown and Geo. Wyatt. It seems an enormous snake of the garter variety had found its way into camp and crawled on the matting. After several unsuccessful attempts the reptile was caught and killed by Mr. Geo. Wyatt. The campers are having a fine time in the beautiful walnut grove and are enjoying life outside of the snakes.

FALL RIVER TRIP TO THE MAMMOTH CAVE

The Earlington Bee has made arrangements to take a party to the Mammoth Cave on Sept. 4th. This is the last trip the Steamer Evansville will make to the Mammoth Cave this year and everything possible will be done to make the trip an enjoyable one. The party will leave over the L. & N. on Saturday, Sept. 4th, and take the steamer Evansville, at Evansville, leaving for the Cave at 5 o'clock. The cost of this trip, including railroad fare to Evansville and return, transferring baggage and dinner at Evansville, steamboat fare Evansville to Mammoth Cave and return, meals and berth on the steamer, board at Mammoth Cave hotel and Routes (1) and (2) is the cave and cost of cave suits will be $20.00. Anyone who is willing to put in a few days work may secure the trip on the following basis.

Forty subscribers will entitle you to one trip.

Twenty subscribers and $10.00 will entitle you to a trip.

Ten subscribers and $15.00 will entitle you to a trip, and so on.

In case a party secures any number of subscribers and does not wish to take the trip, they will be paid in cash as follows: 25 cents on each new subscriber, and 10 cents on each re-newal. This subscription getting contest is open to any one in Hopkins county, male or female, married or single. The contest begins with this issue of the paper and will close Saturday morning September 4th at nine o'clock. We have conducted quite a number of these Mammoth Cave trips, and each one has been a success. The scenery on upper Green river is unsurpassed, the cave is the largest and most wonderful in the world and every person in Kentucky should make this trip and visit the Mammoth Cave. If you wish to enter this contest, send in your name with one year's subscription then get busy with your friends. The Woman's World and the Semi-Weekly Bee both one year for $1.00. This is a contest where you get pay for everything you do and there is no chance to lose. We have the names of fifteen who will make the trip regardless of the number of subscribers they secure, so there will likely be a large party on this trip.

DAMAGE IN NEW YORK AND ALONG THE NEW JERSEY COAST IS DIFFICULT TO ESTIMATE

Downpour With Sixty Mile Gale Floods Gotham—Ties up Traffic and Paralyzes Business—All Northern Pennsylvania and Western New York Covered and Trains Delayed.

New York, Aug. 4.—A torrential downpour accompanying sixty mile gale this morning flooded the streets of this city and crippled traffic facilities: uprooted trees and flooded cellars.

Damage along the north of New Jersey coast is difficult to estimate.

Unprecedented Washouts

Buffalo, Aug. 4.—A rainstorm which culminated in a cloudburst at Erie last night covered all Northern Pennsylvania and Western New York. Trains on many lines were delayed, owing to unprecedented washouts.

COOPER TALKED TO MANY FARMER

Great European War Will Not Affect Distribution of Tanlac

Thousands of farmers from Jefferson and adjoining counties heard L. T. Cooper, the great philanthropist, in Louisville recently. Cooper gave one of his famous lectures on health and hygiene, in connection with an interesting demonstration of the merits of Tanlac, the remarkable medicine he is introducing to the American people.

Several scores of these same farmers took part in the agricultural exposition conducted by Cooper at his own personal expense in Lexington. Many of the displays excelled the exhibits seen at the county fairs, and have attracted widespread attention throughout Kentucky.

In speaking of Tanlac and the remarkable cures his great medicine is fulfilling, Cooper said to the farmers:

"Tanalac, gentlemen, is not a common patent medicine. Tanlac is a proprietary medicine—the kind of medicine recently spoken of by Hon. Oscar Underwood, the Democratic leader of the House of Representatives in our national Congress at Washington, D. C. You all know Mr. Underwood was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, and that he is a man of great ability and integrity. He is a native Kentuckian, too."

"Realizing what a real hardship it would bring to the thousands of American people who daily use Tanlac and similar proprietary medicine, should these preparations be included among the popular commodities upon which a special war revenue tax was placed, Congressman Underwood, with characteristic safeguard of the people's rights placed himself on record as unalterably opposed to anything that would increase the price of proprietary medicines, or which would tend to deprive the working man of his best friend."

"The result was that Tanlac and similar proprietary medicines were stricken completely off the war revenue bill. Thus it is, gentlemen, that the thousands of sufferers in this country are enabled to obtain Tanlac now at a price within the reach of the most modest means."

Here, Cooper, holding the attention of the great assemblage, explained the causes and enumerated the symptoms of stomach, liver and kidney troubles.

"Most of the so-called stomach, liver and kidney troubles," said the noted student, "are due almost entirely to cathartical inflammation of those organs. The constant coughing up of mucus, dull, throbbing headache, pains in the pit of the stomach, side and kidney region, lost appetite, nervousness, lost ambition, depression of spirits, and susceptibility to coughs and colds, are common symptoms of this miserable condition from which so many suffer."

Cooper then produced hundreds of testimonials from Louisville people as convincing evidence of the genuine merits of Tanlac.

Tanalac is now sold in Earlington and S. Charles by Geo. King & Sons and Robinson Drug Store, Mortons Gap, and City Drug Store Nortonville.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

John T. Barnett Killed and Others Injured—Auto Turns Over Near Mortons

ENTIRE COMMUNITY SHOCKED

A fatal accident occurred on the road about two miles from Mortons Gap this afternoon when the automobile owned and driven by Mr. John T. Barnett a well known citizen of this place turned over. The other occupants of the car were Barton Faulk, Pete Davis jr., and Manon Oldham all of this city. From the best evidence that can be obtained the accident was caused by the car slewing in the deep dust and running too far to one side of the road, and in attempting to right the car back in the road Mr. Barnett turned the wheels to far the other way and the car skidded in the dust turning completely over and righting itself on backwards some twenty feet. In turning over the life was crushed out of Mr. Barnett and the other occupants were considerably cut and bruised. Young Oldham realized that Mr. Barnett's condition was serious and hurried to a neighboring house to summons a physician, Dr. Amplus Davis was soon at the scene of the accident and rendered what aid was possible but to no avail. Mr. Barnett was injured internally and lived only a short time. His brother Charles Barnett and his wife with a large number of friends were rushed to the scene of accident and were with him when he died. His body was brought to Earlington, to the residence of Charlie Barnett, where it will be prepared for burial.

Mr. Barnett's sad death has cast a feeling of depression and gloom over the town, for he was a man with many friends and his sudden death came like a thunder bolt from a clear sky. His sorrowing wife and relatives have the deepest sympathy of the entire community. Death in any form is sad, but to come like this without a moments warning it is doubly so. Yet it is the gloom of the churchyard that reveals to us the beauty of life, and the broken ties at the grave prompt us to a fuller appreciation of the ties as yet unbroken, so while we mourn the loss of the one that has gone we find comfort in the thought that there is no cloud so dark, but there is light behind it and no sorrow so deep but there is a balm that will heal it in God's own time.

James Nisbet Dead

Mr. Jas. Nisbet, one of the oldest citizens of Madisonville, died at the home of his son, Will Nisbet, South Seminary street, at an early hour Thursday morning, following a paralytic stroke a short time ago. Mr. Nisbet was 88 years of age and was well and favorably known throughout the county, where he had spent most of his life, having been one of the county's leading farmers. For the past fifteen years he has resided in Madisonville. The deceased was a good Christian gentleman, having long been a member of the Christian church. He is survived by three sons and two daughters, Jack, Will and Frank Nisbet, of this city, Mrs. D. D. Woodruff, of St. Charles, and Mrs. Jenkins, of Providence.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Grapevine church this afternoon by Rev. S. S. Jones and the remains will be laid to rest in the cemetery there.
